

ZONING INTERPRETATION
RECORD OF INTERPRETATION
2023-02

Subject of Interpretation: Motocross track as an allowed use

Regulation: Planning & Zoning Ordinances and Subdivision Regulations, Section 203 – Use Districts

Purpose: To provide clarification regarding whether a motocross track is a permitted use or conditional use in the R1 Zoning District

Background: The Town of Camp Verde, Arizona (the “Town”) adopted requirements for allowed uses of land as part of the Planning & Zoning Ordinances and Subdivision Regulations (the “Zoning Code”) in Section 203 – Use Districts. Under this section, “Any use or structure not specifically permitted by (or analogous to) District Provisions shall be deemed prohibited and unlawful as a principal or an accessory use or structure for the District.” The Zoning Code restricts the number, size, type, or manner of uses on any parcel so as not to impair the enjoyment or use of any nearby properties or violate other legal restrictions.

Each separate Use District includes a description of the purpose of the district, a list of permitted uses and structures, and a list of uses and structures subject to a use permit. If a use is specifically listed as a permitted use, then it is determined to be an allowed use with limited restrictions. If a use is listed as conditionally permitted, then that use is subject to a Use Permit which requires approval by the Planning and Zoning Commission and Town Council. The Use Districts also include as a permitted use, “Other accessory uses commonly associated with primary permitted use.” The purpose of this interpretation is to clarify whether a motocross track is a permitted use, conditionally permitted use, or an accessory use in the R1 Zoning District.

Property Dispute:

- A. Location of Properties. There are three properties that have a motocross track that is partially under construction. These include APN 403-11-084 [REDACTED], APN 403-11-085 [REDACTED], and APN 403-11-086 [REDACTED]. The track has existed on Mr. [REDACTED] property since at least 2015 (source – Google Earth). The track has recently been expanded and now extends into the [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] properties. This expansion appears to have occurred sometime after February 2022 (source – Google Earth).
- B. Requestor. Mr. Tetreault and Ms. Fambrough live adjacent to the [REDACTED] property on APN 403-11-087. Specifically, they have requested the Town,
- “... provide an opinion of and interpretation of land use for R-1 zoned property. Interested mainly in the construction of a professional size motocross race track built in a residential neighborhood across 3 residential lots, one of which is in probate.”*
- C. Neighbor Dispute. Tetreault and Fambrough have expressed nuisance concerns related to the use of the track primarily related to dust and noise. The track is approximately 1 to 1.5

acres in size. According to Ms. Fambrough, it is used on a fairly regular basis (approximately once per week) by the property owners, their family members, and friends. The complaints that have been filed are related to nuisance concerns – primarily noise and dust. The neighbors have also raised concerns about the environmental impact of motorcycles in a flood zone including driving away animals, flooding, and soil erosion. In addition, they have stated that the track is sometimes used for gatherings with approximately 15 to 20 people in attendance with 5 or 6 people riding at a time. Although this track has existed on the Cole property for many years, this is the first time a formal interpretation of the Zoning Code has been requested.

- D. Uses not specifically listed. Key to this interpretation is a question of how the zoning ordinance addresses uses not specifically identified as permitted or conditionally permitted uses. The Camp Verde Zoning Ordinance, Section 203 states, “Any use or structure not specifically permitted by (or analogous to) District Provisions shall be deemed prohibited and unlawful as a principal or an accessory use or structure for the District.” Therefore, if a use is not specifically listed, it is generally considered as prohibited. Section 203 Use Districts provides some flexibility for uses or structures but only to the extent they are “analogous,” i.e., “similar” or comparable” as defined by Code. In other words, a use or structure must be listed as specifically permitted, or analogous to a specifically permitted use, otherwise it is prohibited in that district.
- E. R1 District Purpose and Uses. The zoning ordinance states in Section 203.B.1. that, “The R1 District is intended for single-family residential living, site-built, modular or manufactured housing.” Section 203.B.2. lists the following permitted and conditionally permitted uses:
2. Permitted Uses and Structures:
 - a. Accessory Dwelling Unit (ADU).
 - b. Agriculture and cultivation.
 - c. Dwelling unit for one family on any one lot. (See B.1).
 - d. Educational institutions (including private schools, provided they offer curriculum of general instruction comparable to similar public schools).
 - e. Flood control facilities.
 - f. Golf courses with accessory uses such as pro shops, shelters, and rest rooms.
 - g. Historical Landmarks.
 - h. Home occupations (See Section 303).
 - i. Keeping of farm animals, limited (See Section 305).
 - j. Open land carnival and recreation facilities (religious & educational institutions).
 - k. Other accessory uses commonly associated with primary permitted use. (See Section 301 C.)
 - l. Religious institutions (in permanent buildings).

3. Uses and Structures Subject to Use Permit

- a. Community parks, playgrounds or centers.
- b. Government facilities and facilities required for the provision of utilities and public services.
- c. Bed and Breakfast.
- d. Temporary Use Permits, subject to administrative approval (See Section 601.C):
 - 1) Occupancy of temporary housing, including travel trailers, during the construction of a permanent dwelling is allowed during the 12-month period after issuance of a building permit.
 - 2) Model homes, temporary offices (construction and pre-construction sales offices/showrooms), construction sheds and yards incidental to a recorded residential development or other construction project (subject to District setbacks) for a period not to exceed 12 months.
- e. Mobile/manufactured home and recreational vehicle parks subject to the requirements of Section 306.
 - 1) Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event a Planned Area Development (PAD) District is established per Section 203, this use may be included in any Development Plan thereunder and approved without being subject to a Use Permit application and hearing procedures set forth in Section 601.

Note that there is not a use listed as Motocross track. Nor are there any uses which appear to be “analogous” or similar in nature. There is a listing under 2.j. of “Open land carnival and recreational facilities” but under the definitions section, it’s clear that these must be associated with a religious or educational institution.

- F. Accessory Use. Section 203.B.2.k. lists, “Other accessory uses commonly associated with primary permitted use” as a permitted use. Section 103 includes a definition of an accessory use as “A use of land or of a building or portion thereof customarily incidental and subordinate to and located on the same lot with the principal use”. For a motocross track to be considered a permitted accessory use under this definition, it would need to be customarily incidental and subordinate to the primary use of a single-family residential use. Based on the scale of the use, it is difficult to conclude that it is incidental and subordinate to a single-family use. In addition, the definition requires the accessory use to be “...located on the same lot with the principal use.” The motocross track is actually located on three (3) lots so it would not meet this requirement.
- G. Other Uses Considered. The zoning ordinance does include one use that could be considered similar in nature. The use is listed as, “Outdoor recreation or assembly facilities”. Under the Definitions in Section 103, this is defined as, “An area designed for active recreation, whether publicly or privately owned, including but not limited to parks, baseball diamonds, soccer and football fields, golf courses, tennis courts, swimming pools, equestrian facilities, archery and shooting ranges.” A motocross track could fall into this definition. However, this use is not allowed in the R1 Zone. It is a conditional use in the RS, C1, C2, C3, OS, and AG zones. It is a permitted use in the M2 and PAD zones.

H. Case Law. The Arizona Court of Appeals dealt with a similar fact pattern in Murphy v. Town of Chino Valley, 163 Ariz. 571 (App. 1989). The Murphys operated a recreational use on their property, a roping arena.

The Appeals Court concluded that:

A roping arena, where the owners and numerous others participate in competitive roping, is not expressly within the scope of any of the listed uses for the zoning district. If the roping arena is to be considered a permitted use, it must come under the definition of an accessory use.

While the proposed use of a motocross track is very different from a roping arena, it does address the question of what an appropriate accessory use is. The Town of Camp Verde Zoning Ordinance defines “Accessory Use” as a use of land or of a building or portion thereof customarily incidental and subordinate to and located on the same lot with the principal use.

The Court of Appeals (in Murphy) found that it would be reasonable to conclude that a roping arena where friends and community members are invited for competitive and practice cattle roping events is not an accessory agricultural use. Murphy, 163 Ariz. 571, 577.

While the motocross track may differ in type and scale to the Murphy arena, the extent of the impact of this activity on the neighborhood is not disputed. There are complaints that the activities are noisy and result in excessive dust. The type of activity, including the sheer scale and impact on the nearby residential area, supports a finding that this is a recreational activity in nature rather than a mere accessory use.

Conclusion: Motocross track is not listed as a permitted or conditionally permitted use in any zoning district. In addition, it can't be considered an accessory use. It is beyond the scale of a use that is customarily incidental and subordinate to a permitted use. And finally, the only use that could be considered similar in nature (outdoor recreation and assembly) is not allowed in the R1 Zoning District.

Other Options: In order for this use to be allowed as a permitted or conditionally permitted use, the Town of Camp Verde would need to amend the Zoning Ordinance. An ordinance amendment can be initiated by a private property owner, town staff, the Planning and Zoning Commission or Town Council.

Appeal: Per Section 602, paragraph B, the Board of Adjustment may hear appeals of administrative decisions. Specifically:

“The Board, on deciding appeals from decisions of the Community Development Director (Zoning Administrator), is responsible for interpreting the meaning and equitable application of the Zoning Ordinance.

1. Appeals to the Board may be filed by persons aggrieved or by any officer, department, board or bureau of the Town affected by a decision of the Community Development Director, within a period of 45 days by filing, in writing, with the Community Development Director and with the Board, a notice of appeal specifying the grounds thereof.

2. The Community Development Director shall immediately transmit all records, pertaining to the action appealed, to the Board.

3. An appeal stays all proceedings in the matter appealed, unless the Community Development Director verifies to the Board after the notice of appeal is filed, that by reason of facts stated in the certificate, a stay would cause imminent peril to life or property. Upon such certification, proceedings shall not be stayed other than by a restraining order granted by the Board or by a court of record on application and notice to the Community Development Director.

4. A person aggrieved by a decision of the Board, or a tax payer or municipal officer may, at any time within 30 days after the Board has rendered its decision, file a complaint in the Superior Court to review the decision. Filing of the complaint shall not stay proceedings upon the decision appealed, but the court may, on application, grant a stay, and on final hearing may reverse or affirm wholly or partly, or may modify the decision received.”

Unless appealed, this decision is effective March 10, 2023, at 5:00 p.m. The appeal time will start 45 days from the date of publication of the decision. The deadline to file an appeal is April 24, 2023.

PART TWO. ZONING CLASSIFICATIONS

The following sections provide for the location and distribution of various land use types and intensities which may be developed in the Town of Camp Verde. These designations are intended further to be regulated by the criteria set forth in Part Three, General Regulations/ Provisions and Part Four, Development Standards.

SECTION 200 - ZONING CLASSIFICATIONS INTRODUCTION AND PURPOSE

A. Introduction and Purpose

Maintaining desired community character is made possible through measures that assure land use compatibility. Identifying appropriate locations, intensities, mixtures and standards for minimizing negative impacts on nearby property is the fundamental principle of municipal development regulation.

Part Two categorizes appropriate development, in accord with the adopted Town of Camp Verde General Plan, that is both beneficial to the owners of land and to the community's planning vision. In addition to uses permitted in each District as a matter of right, accessory structures or uses are specified, as well as types of activity that may be considered pursuant to obtaining a Use Permit from the Town.

B. Applicability

Zoning District Classifications apply to and differentiate the type and intensity of use of all property in the Town of Camp Verde.

SECTION 201 - ESTABLISHMENT OF DISTRICTS

In conformity with the Purpose and Effect of this Ordinance USE DISTRICTS are hereby established in order to classify, regulate, restrict and separate: uses of land and structures; lot dimensions and areas; yard widths and depths, percent of lot coverage and open spaces; permitted density, height and bulk of structures, and related building considerations. Any reference to a "Use" shall be deemed to include "principal and accessory uses and structures".

SECTION 202 - ZONING MAP

Lands annexed into the Town shall be assigned temporary zoning designation until such time as Town zoning is adopted for the annexed area. Within six months from the effective annexation date, the property owners shall either accept the Agricultural zoning district designation or initiate rezoning on the subject property consistent with the adopted Town of Camp Verde General Plan.

A. District Boundary Determination:

District boundaries on the Zoning Map are intended to follow lot lines, subdivision lines, section lines or center lines of streets, alleys, or other right-of-ways (or extensions thereof), unless otherwise referenced by specific dimensions.

1. District boundaries may be established by designation subsequent to annexation of land into the Town and may be amended as a result of rezoning approval or other Town Council action. Boundary changes are in force as of the Council action's effective date and shall be recorded on a supplemental map until such time as a comprehensive Zoning Map update is approved.
2. Uncertainty of the location of a district boundary shall be determined by the Board of Adjustment and Appeals unless same can be resolved, to the satisfaction of the Inspector and persons of interest, by using the scale of the map. Where such boundary scales to within 25 feet of a common division line or a right-of-way, then it shall be deemed as following such division line or the center of the right-of-way, as the case may be.

B. Abandoned Rights-of-Way:

Where a public street or alley or other right-of-way is officially abandoned, any abutting district boundary shall be adjusted to extend to the centerline of the former right-of-way.

L. PAD (Planned Area Development)

The Planned Area Development designation ensures orderly and thorough planning and review procedures that result in high quality project design and encourages variety in architectural design through techniques including, but not limited to, variations in building style, lot arrangements and site planning.

- 1) Purpose: A parcel of land planned as a unified project rather than as an aggregate of individual lots and may also provide for various types and combinations of land uses (such as single family and or multifamily housing, commercial centers, industrial complexes, and public or common spaces, with increased flexibility in site regulations). The greater flexibility in locating buildings and combining compatible uses make it possible to achieve economies of construction as well as preserving open space.
- 2) Scope: The Planned Area Development regulations that follow shall apply generally to the initiation and regulation of all Planned Area Development Districts. A PAD District may be added to an existing district to meet the intent of this Section or may be processed concurrently with a request to change an underlying zoning district. An approved PAD Development Plan/Site Plan shall be specific to that particular property as approved by Town Council upon recommendation by the Planning and Zoning Commission. A Development Plan/Site Plan must be submitted as per Site Plan requirements, Section 400 D1.
 - a. Where there are conflicts between PAD regulations and the general zoning, subdivision or other regulations, these regulations shall apply in PAD Districts unless the Council shall find, in the particular case, that the provisions herein do not serve the public to a degree at least equivalent to such general zoning, subdivision or other regulations.
 - b. It is intended to permit establishment of new Planned Area Development Districts for specialized purposes where tracts suitable in location, area, and character for the uses and structures proposed are to be planned and developed on a unified basis. Suitability of tracts for the development proposed shall be determined primarily by reference to the General Plan, but due consideration shall be given to existing and prospective character of surrounding development.
 - c. Within PAD Districts, regulations adapted to such unified planning and development are intended to accomplish purposes of zoning and other applicable regulations to an equivalent or higher degree than where such regulations are designed to control unscheduled development on individual lots, and to promote economical and efficient land use, an improved level of amenities, appropriate and harmonious variety, creative design, and a better environment.
 - d. Open Space Dedication: open space shall be included in all developments. A dedication of open space not less than twenty-five percent (25%) of a development project is preferred
- 3) PAD Major Amendments: A request for any major amendment to a PAD including amendments to the Development Phasing Schedule will be deemed major if it involves any of the following and must be approved by the Town Council upon recommendation by the Planning and Zoning Commission:
 - a. An increase in the approved totals of dwelling units or gross leasable area for the PAD District.
 - b. A change in zoning boundaries.
 - c. Any change which could have significant impact on areas adjoining the PAD as determined by the Community Development Director.
- 4) PAD Minor Amendments:
 - a. All request for amendments to a PAD that are not a PAD Major Amendment shall be deemed a PAD Minor Amendment.
 - b. A request for a Minor Amendment to a PAD with an amended site plan may be filed with the Community Development Department if the Community Development Director determines the request is not major, as defined above.
 - c. The request will be routed for comment to any affected Town departments or other agencies for comment.

SECTION 204 - USE DISTRICT REGULATORY CRITERIA

Use district regulations establish the specifications for building construction on parcels within each designated zone classification. Variations among the several districts differentiate the appropriate parcel sizes and structure spacing necessary to maintain compatibility of land uses, densities and intensities throughout the Town of Camp Verde.

District standards are key determinants for implementing the Town's desired rural, western atmosphere with a range of residential living options, places for commerce, employment, agriculture and open space activities. Zoning district regulations offer basic development distinctions appropriate for a small community -- without becoming unnecessarily complex.

Parcel development standards pertain to height, coverage, placement (including setbacks from property lines) of structures on the parcel. These criteria are further refined, where applicable, by the additional development standards covering siting arrangements, appearance compatibility, parking, signage and outdoor lighting contained in Part Four, Development Standards.

A. Suffix District Lot Area Variations

Minimum lot area requirements may be increased or reduced for reasons of density compatibility, variations in terrain or soils, drainage conditions, infrastructure capacity, and other factors relating to the size, spacing and type of structure and/or use to be placed on a lot within a portion of a given zoning district classification. Parcels subject to increased or reduced lot area requirements are indicated by a suffix notation, expressed in thousands of square feet, on the Zoning Map. (Example: R1L-12 denotes a minimum 12,000 square foot lot).

B. Use District Development Criteria

For ease in comparing Camp Verde's district regulations, required measurements for development in each land use category are illustrated in tabular form. (Table is provided for reference only, district provisions as specified in Section 203 shall prevail).

★ Suffix designations, in thousands of square feet (e.g., R1-12 = 12,000 sq.ft. minimum area) may indicate larger lot area required, as shown on Town Zoning Map.

- a 0' minimum rear and side setbacks adjacent to C1, C2, C3, M1 or M2
- b Unless it can be shown that added depth will not block projected streets or alleys.
- c 500' between adult-oriented businesses.

Abbreviations: s-f = single-family; d.u. = dwelling unit; sq.ft = square feet; bldg ht = building height

Note: Where lots were recorded prior to the Town's incorporation with less area than required above, the Community Development Director may approve reduced setbacks.

C. Use District Classifications Table

For ease in comparing Camp Verde's district classifications in each land use category they are illustrated below in tabular form. (Table is provided for reference only, district provisions as specified in Section 203 shall prevail.)

The Letter...	Has the following meaning...
P	Permitted uses: The letter "P" indicates that the listed use is permitted by right within the zoning district. Permitted uses are subject to all other applicable standards of the Planning and Zoning Ordinance.
UP	Use Permit uses: The letters "UP" indicate that the listed use permitted within the respective zoning district only after review and approval of a use permit, in accordance with the review procedures of Section 601.C.
A	Accessory uses: The letter "A" indicates that the listed use is permitted only where it is accessory to another use that is permitted in the district on the same lot.
-	Prohibited uses: A dash indicates that the use is not permitted in the district.

Court of Appeals of Arizona,
Division 1, Department B.Amos MURPHY and Connie Murphy, husband and wife, Plaintiffs–Appellees,

v.

TOWN OF CHINO VALLEY, a political subdivision of the State of Arizona, Defendant–Appellant.

No. 1 CA–CV 88–012.

Oct. 31, 1989.

Reconsideration Denied Jan. 12, 1990.

Review Denied May 1, 1990. *

Synopsis

Town appealed from an order of the Superior Court, Yavapai County, Cause No. C–45994, Richard Anderson, J., which reversed a decision of the town board of adjustments requiring landowners to apply for a conditional use permit to operate their cattle roping arena. The Court of Appeals, Voss, J., held that: (1) complaining landowner was not real party in interest; (2) determination that arena was not an accessory agricultural use was supported by sufficient credible evidence; (3) arena was a “recreation area” for which conditional use permit was required under new zoning code; and (4) landowners were not denied due process at board level.

Reversed and remanded.

Procedural Posture(s): On Appeal.

VOSS, Judge.

This is an appeal from summary judgment in superior court reversing a zoning decision of the Town of Chino Valley Board of Adjustments (the board). We reverse and remand for reinstatement of the board's decision.

FACTS

Amos and Connie Murphy own a residence and land in the Town of Chino Valley. In 1984 the zoning on their property was changed from agricultural to R-1 residential as part of a new zoning code adopted by Chino Valley. Over a period of time, the Murphys built a roping arena on their property that was used by their family and friends for riding horses and roping cattle. The arena has a corral, cattle runs, release shoots and seven 30'-40' poles with high intensity lights. The number of people participating at roping events was estimated to vary from 6-7 to as many as 120.

In 1985 Chuck Hudson, an adjacent property owner, complained to the town manager/zoning administrator, that the Murphys' roping arena did not comply with Chino Valley's zoning code. Acting on the complaint, the zoning administrator inquired into whether the facility was in operation prior to the adoption of the 1984 code. Many responses were received, including 28 statements indicating the arena had been utilized by family and friends before 1984.

At the conclusion of the inquiry the zoning administrator wrote a letter to Hudson advising him she had concluded that the roping arena was in operation under the former zoning code and was therefore “grandfathered in” under the current code. She advised Hudson that he could appeal her decision to the board.

Hudson filed a notice of appeal of the zoning administrator's decision to the board. The appeal was considered at a special board meeting. The board heard testimony from approximately 17 witnesses, including Hudson and the Murphys. The meeting was tape recorded, but the tape ended before completion of the public hearing and prior to the board's decision. The board voted unanimously to require the Murphys to apply for a conditional use permit.

*1074 *573 Thereafter, the Murphys filed a petition for special action in superior court requesting review of the board's decision. Cross motions for summary judgment were filed by both Chino Valley and the Murphys. The trial court granted the Murphys' motion, finding that the roping arena had been in existence before the enactment of the 1984 zoning ordinance and was a permitted use under the prior zoning ordinance. It declined to decide whether the arena could exist under the new code except as a legal nonconforming use. The court entered an order reversing the decision of the board, reinstating the ruling of the zoning administrator and awarding attorney's fees against the town for $14,487 plus costs.

JURISDICTIONAL ISSUES

Jurisdiction of the Trial Court

[1] Chino Valley contends the trial court lacked jurisdiction to hear the special action because Hudson was the real party in interest and was not joined as a defendant. First, Chino Valley compares the board proceeding to a judicial proceeding in which the board acted as the judge resolving a dispute between two parties and contends that Rule 2, Rules of Procedure for Special Actions, applies to this situation and requires that Hudson be joined as a defendant. Rule 2 provides:

(a) [Parties]. Any person who previously could institute an application for a writ of mandamus, prohibition, or certiorari may institute proceedings for a special action. The complaint shall join as a defendant the body, officer, or person against whom relief is sought. If any public body, tribunal, or officer is named as a defendant, the real party or parties in interest shall also be joined as defendants.

It is clear under Rule 2 that where a party to a judicial proceeding files a special action to challenge a trial judge's determination that favors the opposing party, the opposing party must be joined as a defendant. See generally 1 Arizona Appellate Handbook, § 7.5.1 at 7–9 (2d ed. 1983). Cf. Silver v. Rose, 135 Ariz. 339, 343, 661 P.2d 189, 193 (App.1982). The trial judge must also be made a respondent. See Hickox v. Superior Court In and For Maricopa County, 19 Ariz.App. 195, 505 P.2d 1086 (1973).

[2] A trial judge is expected to be impartial rather than assume an adversary position in a special action. See Dunn v. Superior Court In and For Maricopa County, 160 Ariz. 311, 772 P.2d 1164 (App.1989). A board of adjustment, however, must regulate land use, which may place it in an adversary position to one of the parties appearing before it. Thus, this action is not comparable to the type of judicial proceeding contemplated by Rule 2. The record in this appeal supports the conclusion that the board assumed an adversary position in these proceedings; therefore the board is a real party in interest, properly before the court in this matter.

Chino Valley also points out that where one of two parties to a controversy in a hearing before the Registrar of Contractors brings an appeal to superior court under the Administrative Review Act, A.R.S. § 12–901 et seq., failure to join the opposing party deprives the trial court of jurisdiction. International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers v. Kayetan, 119 Ariz. 508, 581 P.2d 1158 (App.1978). Chino Valley argues by analogy that the parties to a dispute before a municipal body are necessary parties to a special action under A.R.S. § 9–462.06\(K\).

This analogy also fails because the board is not a neutral arbitrator and is acting to protect Hudson's interest. This court held in a similar context that an administrative agency can be an aggrieved party with standing to challenge an adverse ruling of the Superior Court.  Burrows v. Taylor, 129 Ariz. 212, 630 P.2d 35 (App.1981).

We have found a limited number of cases concerning whether a party who complains to a board of adjustment may also be a real party in interest. See generally 3 Rathkopf, The Law of Zoning and Planning § 42.05 (4th ed. 1988). The following cases hold that objecting land owners are not necessary or indispensable parties: Peoples Trust Company v. Board of Adjustment, 60 N.J.Super. 569, 160 A.2d 63 (1959) (It 1075 *574 might interfere with free and open discussion before boards if property owners, by participating, risked being parties to subsequent judicial proceedings); Nepi v. Lammot, 52 Del. 281, 156 A.2d 413 (1959). The cases indicate that the only indispensable party to an appeal from a board of adjustment's decision is the board of adjustment. Id.;  Zoning Board of Adjustment of New Castle County v. Dragon Run Terrace, Inc., 59 Del. 175, 216 A.2d 146 (1965); see also Tazza v. Planning and Zoning Commission, 164 Conn. 187, 319 A.2d 393 (1972) (The zoning commission is the proper party to represent the public interest and to defend its decisions).

[3] We agree that on an appeal or special action review of a board of adjustment decision, the board and the property owner directly subject to the board decision are necessary parties. Merely taking a position before the board as an abutting landowner or neighbor does not per se make one a party to further litigation. The board represents the interests of the community at large. Further, the fact a complainant is not an indispensable party does not effect standing to intervene. There could be facts under which a complainant's interest in the outcome require that he be made a party. However, that case is not before us. We conclude the trial court had jurisdiction to consider the Murphys' petition for special action relief.

Jurisdiction of the Court of Appeals

[4] The Murphys argue that this court must dismiss Chino Valley's appeal because it is not an "aggrieved party" within the meaning of Rule 1, Arizona Rules of Civil Appellate Procedure. We find no merit to this argument. If for no other reason than the award of attorney's fees directed against the Town of Chino Valley, the town is an aggrieved party entitled to appeal this award. Further, the town has a legitimate interest in sustaining the validity of the procedures leading to the board's decision, as well as the decision itself, which gives it standing to appear in this court. See Dunn, 160 Ariz. 311, 772 P.2d 1164 (App.1989); Camelback Contractors, Inc. v. Industrial Commission, 125 Ariz. 205, 608 P.2d 782 (App.1980).

STANDARD OF REVIEW

In a special action to review a municipal board of adjustment decision, the trial court's primary purpose is to determine whether the board's decision was arbitrary and capricious or an abuse of discretion. Blake v. City of Phoenix, 157 Ariz. 93, 754 P.2d 1368 (App.1988). An appellate court is bound by the same standard of review as the superior court in reviewing the board's decision.  City of Phoenix v. Superior Court In and For Maricopa County, 110 Ariz. 155, 515 P.2d 1175, 1178 (1973);  Gannett Outdoor Company v. City of Mesa, 159 Ariz. 459, 768 P.2d 191 (App.1989). Our review is limited to finding error, and we may not substitute our opinion of facts for that of the board. If there is credible evidence to support the board's decision, we must affirm. Id. However, where the issues involve statutory interpretation, the trial court and this court are free to draw their own conclusions on whether an agency misinterpreted the law.  Eshelman v. Blubaum, 114 Ariz. 376, 378, 560 P.2d 1283, 1285 (App.1977).

BASIS FOR THE TRIAL COURT'S DECISION

Chino Valley contends the trial court ruled that the board erred in holding a de novo hearing and considering evidence that had not been presented to the zoning administrator. The Murphys argue that this was not the basis for the trial court's decision. They contend the trial court held that the board's decision was erroneous because it was contrary to the evidence presented at the board's evidentiary hearing.

The trial court's minute entry provides in part:

The Board of Adjustments did not reverse, affirm or modify the order of the Zoning Administrator but apparently made a determination based upon a de novo proceeding. This appears to be improper procedure under the applicable statute but in any event, the action of 1076 *575 the Board of Adjustments is clearly arbitrary, capricious and an abuse of discretion and the decision of the Board may not stand.

(Emphasis added.)

[5] We agree that the trial court was incorrect in concluding that the board was without authority to conduct an evidentiary hearing; the board has authority under A.R.S. § 9-462.06(A), (B), (C), (F) and (G) to conduct a public hearing and take evidence. See, e.g., Boyce v. City of Scottsdale, 157 Ariz. 265, 756 P.2d 934 (App.1988); Arkules v. Board of Adjustment of Town of Paradise Valley, 151 Ariz. 438, 440, 728 P.2d 657, 659 (App.1986) (“The Board of Adjustment, though structured much like an administrative agency, acts in a quasi-judicial capacity”). However, the trial court’s statement that the board followed improper procedures was not the basis for its judgment. The minute entry implies that irrespective of any improper procedure, the court found that the board’s action, after consideration of the evidence, was arbitrary, capricious and an abuse of discretion. Additionally, the trial judge later expressly stated he did not base his decision upon grounds that the town had followed improper procedures.

We therefore review the record to determine whether the trial court was correct in determining that the board acted in an arbitrary and capricious manner and abused its discretion, or whether there was sufficient evidence to support the board’s decision.

THE RECORD

Although there are difficulties with the tape recording of the board proceedings, both Chino Valley and the Murphys agree that the record is adequate for purposes of this appeal. The test for the sufficiency of an administrative record is “whether the errors are of such magnitude that the record precludes an intelligent understanding of the testimony.” Schmitz v. Arizona State Bd. of Dental Examiners, 141 Ariz. 37, 40–41, 684 P.2d 918, 921–22 (App.1984). Although not all the board’s deliberations are in the record, we are able to review the testimony to determine whether there is sufficient evidence to support the board’s decision under any legal theory. Kovacs v. Industrial Commission of Arizona, 132 Ariz. 173, 176, 644 P.2d 909, 912 (App.1982).

FORMER ZONING ORDINANCE

Chino Valley’s former zoning ordinance, Ordinance No. 10, provided for agricultural districts as follows:

4. Agriculture One

(a) Permitted Uses:

- (1) All types of agriculture, truck gardening, horticulture, dairying, stock animal and poultry raising, breeding, processing and selling.
- (2) Homes for owners of ranch or farm and employees
- (3) Sale of farm produce and crops
- (4) Other uses that are not listed under conditional uses which the Board of Adjustment considers similar in character to those listed above

(b) Conditional Uses:

- (1) Boarding homes for children
- (2) Day care homes for children
- (3) Airports and landing strips
- (4) Other uses the Board of Adjustment considers similar in character to those listed above

A roping arena, where the owners and numerous others participate in competitive roping, lighted by high intensity lights on 30–40 foot poles, is not expressly within the scope of any of the listed uses in 4(a)(1), (2) or (3). If the roping arena is to be considered a permitted use, it must come within the provisions of paragraph 4(a)(4)—uses that the board considers similar in character to the listed uses.

The doctrine of accessory uses states that any activity naturally adjunct to the zoning category will be permitted:

‘[C]ustomarily’ ... is commonly used in regulations permitting or defining accessory usages and the courts have sought to determine, in the case of each allegedly accessory or incidental usage, whether it is customary to maintain it in *1077 *576 conjunction with the specifically permitted use of the land....

 Town of Paradise Valley v. Lindberg, 27 Ariz.App. 70, 71, 551 P.2d 60, 61 (1976).

We find no Arizona cases specifically addressing the question of accessory agricultural uses. Chino Valley relies on Borough of Demarest v. Heck, 84 N.J.Super. 100, 201 A.2d 75 (App.Div.1964). In Heck the New Jersey court held that a riding academy was not an agricultural use, referring to testimony of:

[A]nnoying dust, ‘terrific’ when there is ‘violent riding’; disturbing noises caused by the horses, also by children ‘hollering’ and ‘screaming’ and by the blowing of automobile horns; illumination of the barns and excessive light from cars at nighttime; traffic congestion and hazards in the evenings and on Saturdays and Sundays; ... and weekend equestrian functions which were likened to a rodeo.

Id. at 104, 201 A.2d at 77–78. Activity of this nature was held inconsistent with agricultural use of the property.

In response, the Murphys argue that Arizona is not New Jersey. While this response is factually indisputable, it fails to address the legal argument. It does, however, point out the difficulties in resolving mixed issues of fact and law. To a large extent what is an accessory agricultural use as a matter of law may depend on factual determinations of what is customary in a particular agricultural community. It is therefore appropriate that a determination of whether a use is “similar in character” to other express uses rests with a local board of adjustment. A local board of adjustment is the body most aware of community customs and practices and therefore best able to make this decision.

Although the board did not make a specific factual finding, the record indicates that a substantial portion of the testimony and discussion among board members was directed to whether the roping arena was an agricultural use, and, that the board's collective decision was that the roping arena was not an activity “similar in character” to the permitted uses delineated in the old code.

[6] There are sufficient facts in the record from which the board could determine that the roping arena was not an accessory agricultural use. The Murphys and invited friends engaged in competitive cattle roping in the arena. These activities were conducted both in the daytime and in the evening under high intensity lighting. The extent of the impact of this activity on the neighborhood was disputed, but there was evidence that these events were noisy and increased traffic. Nothing in the record indicates that these activities were part of the operation of the Murphys' ranch.

Even if this court were to determine that the roping arena as originally constructed and used complied with Ordinance 10 before 1984, the board heard substantial evidence that the original use expanded beyond that permitted under the old ordinance and therefore could not continue as a legal nonconforming use under the new zoning code. There is, of course, evidence to the contrary. However, in reviewing a board decision it is not the prerogative of this court nor of the trial court to weigh the evidence. Blake, 157 Ariz. at 96, 754 P.2d at 1371.

We find there is sufficient credible evidence to support a board decision that the roping arena was not permitted under the old code and is therefore not a legal nonconforming use under the new code. Whether it was initially a permitted use before the lighting, facilities and numbers of participants expanded is irrelevant. The board's decision was that the arena as used in 1985 would require a conditional use permit. The record supports this conclusion.

NEW CODE

The Murphys' property presently falls within an “R–1” zone under section 504 of the zoning code, which provides in part:

A. PURPOSE

This district is intended to promote and preserve low density single family residential *1078 *577 and agricultural development. Regulations and property development standards are designed to protect the single family residential and agricultural character of the district and to prohibit all incompatible activities. Land use is composed chiefly of individual homes, together with required recreational, religious, and educational facilities.

Section 504(B) lists permitted uses of “R-1” property, some of which the Murphys contend include the roping arena.

B. PERMITTED USES

- 3. Farming and agriculture including the keeping of cattle, horses....
- 4. Customary accessory buildings such as barns, corrals, pens, coops, and storage sheds for the care and keeping of animals....
- 5. Accessory uses as follows:
 - a. Parking of vehicles in facilities and locations on the property not otherwise in conflict with the provisions of this Ordinance;
 - b. Materials used in conjunction with a hobby, avocation, or pastime, the use of which does not otherwise conflict with the provisions of this Ordinance.

The Murphys argue that although the ordinance does not expressly refer to “roping arenas,” it does expressly permit residents to keep cattle and horses, and, therefore, the ordinance implicitly authorizes riding horses or roping cattle. The Murphys further contend that their chutes and arenas qualify as “customary accessory buildings” as described in paragraph 4 above. Finally, they contend that if the roping arena does not fall within the permitted uses, it should be included as an accessory use pursuant to paragraph 5 because the roping arena is the Murphys’ “hobby, avocation, or pastime.”

[7] The Murphys urge that their interpretation of the ordinance is consistent with the policy that zoning ordinances, being in derogation of common-law property rights, should be strictly construed and any ambiguity or uncertainty should be decided in favor of property owners. Hart v. Bayless Inv. & Trading Co., 86 Ariz. 379, 390, 346 P.2d 1101, 1109 (1959). However, we find that the alleged ambiguity does not exist because the Murphys’ use of the property falls under another section of the zoning code, which, as the board found, requires a conditional use permit. That section, 504(C), provides in part:

C. CONDITIONAL USES

(Conditional Use Permit Required)

- 1. Privately owned and operated parks and recreation areas and centers.

(Emphasis added.)

“Recreation Facilities” are defined in § 201 of the 1984 zoning code as:

buildings, structures or areas built or developed for purposes of entertaining, exercising, or observing various activities participated in either actively or passively by individuals or organized groups.

It was undisputed that in addition to the Murphy family, the roping arena was being used by numerous other persons who organized, participated and engaged in rodeo type activities. These activities may be reasonably viewed as utilizing the roping arena as a recreation area rather than as a family hobby. Further, there is no evidence that these competitive activities were necessary for keeping cattle and horses as part of a farm and agricultural use.

We find no error in the board's decision requiring a conditional use permit for the operation of a roping arena under these circumstances. That decision is consistent with the purpose stated in section 504 of the zoning ordinance and is a permissible use of reasonable regulations to promote the general welfare of the community as part of its police powers.

See Ranch 57 v. Yuma, 152 Ariz. 218, 731 P.2d 113 (App.1986).

CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES

[8] The Murphys have also raised several constitutional issues, some of which are raised for the first time on appeal. *1079 *578 Generally, matters not raised below, including constitutional issues, will not be considered on appeal. Norcor of America v. Southern Arizona Int'l Livestock Ass'n, 122 Ariz. 542, 544–45, 596 P.2d 377, 379–80 (App.1979). The issues raised by the Murphys do not fall within any exception to that policy. Therefore, we address only those issues raised before the trial court.

[9] The Murphys contend they were deprived of due process of law because they were not given adequate notice of the charges against them or the evidence upon which the charges were based. They also claim they were denied an impartial tribunal and a chance to present witnesses and refute adverse evidence. See McClanahan v. Cochise College, 25 Ariz.App. 13, 18, 540 P.2d 744, 749 (1975). The Murphys' description of their circumstances does not accurately reflect the record.

Hudson's initial complaint to the zoning administrator necessarily raised the issue of the legality of the Murphys' arena. Many letters were submitted to the zoning administrator on the Murphys' behalf, some of which indicate they were written at the Murphys' request. Hudson's appeal of the zoning administrator's decision necessarily concerned operation of the Murphys' roping arena. The record is silent as to any formal notice given to the Murphys prior to the board hearing. However, the transcript of that meeting confirms that a number of witnesses testified on their behalf, that the Murphys were present and participated in the hearing, and that they made no complaint as to any lack of notice or insufficiency of opportunity to be heard. The trial court record is similarly devoid of any complaints by the Murphys. Accordingly, any applicable due process concerns were satisfied. See Summit Properties, Inc. v. Wilson, 26 Ariz.App. 550, 550 P.2d 104 (1976).

[10] The Murphys also contend that by limiting their use of the roping arena, Chino Valley has eliminated a legal nonconforming use without payment of just compensation through purchase or condemnation as required under A.R.S. § 9–462.02 and Arizona Constitution, art. 2, § 17. As previously discussed, there was sufficient evidence that the roping arena as used at the time of the hearing was not a legal nonconforming use because these activities would not have been permitted under the old code. Accordingly, the roping arena as used at the time of the hearing was not a lawful preexisting use for which compensation had to be paid.

CONCLUSION

This matter is reversed and remanded to the trial court with directions to enter judgment in favor of Chino Valley and reinstate the decision of the board of adjustment. Because we reverse, the trial court's award of attorney's fees against the Town of Chino Valley is vacated.

L. PAD (Planned Area Development)

The Planned Area Development designation ensures orderly and thorough planning and review procedures that result in high quality project design and encourages variety in architectural design through techniques including, but not limited to, variations in building style, lot arrangements and site planning.

- 1) Purpose: A parcel of land planned as a unified project rather than as an aggregate of individual lots and may also provide for various types and combinations of land uses (such as single family and or multifamily housing, commercial centers, industrial complexes, and public or common spaces, with increased flexibility in site regulations). The greater flexibility in locating buildings and combining compatible uses make it possible to achieve economies of construction as well as preserving open space.
- 2) Scope: The Planned Area Development regulations that follow shall apply generally to the initiation and regulation of all Planned Area Development Districts. A PAD District may be added to an existing district to meet the intent of this Section or may be processed concurrently with a request to change an underlying zoning district. An approved PAD Development Plan/Site Plan shall be specific to that particular property as approved by Town Council upon recommendation by the Planning and Zoning Commission. A Development Plan/Site Plan must be submitted as per Site Plan requirements, Section 400 D1.
 - a. Where there are conflicts between PAD regulations and the general zoning, subdivision or other regulations, these regulations shall apply in PAD Districts unless the Council shall find, in the particular case, that the provisions herein do not serve the public to a degree at least equivalent to such general zoning, subdivision or other regulations.
 - b. It is intended to permit establishment of new Planned Area Development Districts for specialized purposes where tracts suitable in location, area, and character for the uses and structures proposed are to be planned and developed on a unified basis. Suitability of tracts for the development proposed shall be determined primarily by reference to the General Plan, but due consideration shall be given to existing and prospective character of surrounding development.
 - c. Within PAD Districts, regulations adapted to such unified planning and development are intended to accomplish purposes of zoning and other applicable regulations to an equivalent or higher degree than where such regulations are designed to control unscheduled development on individual lots, and to promote economical and efficient land use, an improved level of amenities, appropriate and harmonious variety, creative design, and a better environment.
 - d. Open Space Dedication: open space shall be included in all developments. A dedication of open space not less than twenty-five percent (25%) of a development project is preferred
- 3) PAD Major Amendments: A request for any major amendment to a PAD including amendments to the Development Phasing Schedule will be deemed major if it involves any of the following and must be approved by the Town Council upon recommendation by the Planning and Zoning Commission:
 - a. An increase in the approved totals of dwelling units or gross leasable area for the PAD District.
 - b. A change in zoning boundaries.
 - c. Any change which could have significant impact on areas adjoining the PAD as determined by the Community Development Director.
- 4) PAD Minor Amendments:
 - a. All request for amendments to a PAD that are not a PAD Major Amendment shall be deemed a PAD Minor Amendment.
 - b. A request for a Minor Amendment to a PAD with an amended site plan may be filed with the Community Development Department if the Community Development Director determines the request is not major, as defined above.
 - c. The request will be routed for comment to any affected Town departments or other agencies for comment.

SECTION 602 - ZONING ADJUSTMENTS

Zoning matters decided by the Board of Adjustment and Appeals are intended to apply to specific properties or actions. Such decisions are not regarded as strict precedents; however, they may be considered in future matters under similar circumstances.

A. Variances

1. A variance from the Planning and Zoning Ordinance shall not be granted by the Board unless and until a public hearing has been conducted pursuant to Section 602. C, and until the property owner in a written appeal and at the public hearing demonstrates and the Board finds that all criteria required by subsections a. through e. have been met:
 - a. That special conditions and circumstances exist which are peculiar to the land, structure or building involved and which are not applicable to other lands, structures or buildings in the same District;
 - b. That literal interpretation of the provisions of the Zoning Ordinance would deprive the applicant of rights commonly enjoyed by other properties in the same District under the terms of the Zoning Ordinance;
 - c. That the alleged hardships caused by literal interpretation of the provisions of the Zoning Ordinance include more than personal inconvenience and financial hardship and do not result from actions that are self-imposed or for economic gain by the applicant;
 - d. That granting the variance requested will not confer upon the applicant any special privilege that is denied by the Zoning Ordinance to other lands, structures or buildings in the same District; and

- e. That granting the variance requested will not interfere or injure the rights of other properties in the same District.
2. The Board MAY NOT:
 - a. Make any changes in the uses permitted in any zoning classification or zoning District, or make any changes in the terms of the Zoning Ordinance, provided the restriction in this paragraph shall not affect the authority to grant variances pursuant to this article.
 - b. Grant a variance if the special circumstances applicable to the property are self-imposed by the owner.

B. Appeals from Administrative Decisions

The Board, on deciding appeals from decisions of the Community Development Director (Zoning Administrator), is responsible for interpreting the meaning and equitable application of the Zoning Ordinance.

1. Appeals to the Board may be filed by persons aggrieved or by any officer, department, board or bureau of the Town affected by a decision of the Community Development Director, within a period of 45 days by filing, in writing, with the Community Development Director and with the Board, a notice of appeal specifying the grounds thereof.
2. The Community Development Director shall immediately transmit all records, pertaining to the action appealed, to the Board.
3. An appeal stays all proceedings in the matter appealed, unless the Community Development Director verifies to the Board after the notice of appeal is filed, that by reason of facts stated in the certificate, a stay would cause imminent peril to life or property. Upon such certification, proceedings shall not be stayed other than by a restraining order granted by the Board or by a court of record on application and notice to the Community Development Director.
4. A person aggrieved by a decision of the Board, or a tax payer or municipal officer may, at any time within 30 days after the Board has rendered its decision, file a complaint in the Superior Court to review the decision. Filing of the complaint shall not stay proceedings upon the decision appealed, but the court may, on application, grant a stay, and on final hearing may reverse or affirm wholly or partly, or may modify the decision received.

C. Hearings

The Board shall fix a reasonable time for the public hearing of an appeal; and shall give public notice thereof, by both publication in a newspaper of general circulation in accordance with ARS 9-462.04 as it exists now or as it is amended from time to time, and by posting notices in conspicuous places close to the property affected, as well as due notice to the parties in interest, including first class mail notice to all owners of record of properties located within 300 feet of the subject property.

1. At the public hearing, any applicant may appear in person or by representative, and may present their appeal orally or by documentary materials, and submit rebuttal as may be necessary.
